

White Cap Releases 2025 Sustainability Report

ATLANTA, June 30, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- White Cap, a leading distributor of specialty construction supplies and safety products for professional contractors, today released its fifth Sustainability Report, highlighting initiatives and progress achieved over the past year in support of its sustainability commitments.

The 2025 Sustainability Report highlights White Cap's efforts to reduce environmental impacts across its supply chain; provide a socially conscious workplace that fosters strong relationships among associates, customers, suppliers, and communities; and operate with integrity, transparency and respect across its business.

These efforts are a result of White Cap's Commitments to:

- Responsible Construction
- Operational Integrity and Safety
- Our People and Communities
- Governance and Security

"At White Cap, Our Commitments are integral to how we work and how we support the people and communities around us," said Alan Sollenberger, CEO. "This Sustainability Report highlights the progress we've made and reinforces our commitments to operate with integrity, invest in our people, and help build a more sustainable future. The dedication of our associates across the organization continues to drive these efforts, and I'm proud to be part of a team making a meaningful impact every day."
